Definition «Holiday Flights»

Holiday flights are seasonal flight connections (non-stop and/or direct) of limited rotation duration carried out on behalf of respectively in cooperation with tour operators from any airport within Switzerland (including bordering airports such as BSL and FDH). It is of no relevance whether such seasonal flight connections are operated on a charter or scheduled basis. However the tour operator must assume responsibility for a fixed number of seats on a risk and/or guarantee basis, respectively for a variable number of seats bookable individually and/or through a pooling system. The tour operator must enter into an appropriate agreement with the partner in question (that is, with an other tour operator and/or with the carrier direct). Such agreements exclude routes operated out of Switzerland all-year-round by network airlines (otherwise referred to as scheduled flights). The exceptions are those network connections on which a large contingent respectively the majority of seats have been taken over by tour operators on a fixed basis. Not listed are feeder flights from Switzerland for holiday flights from foreign airports.

Explanation: The holiday flights listed in this supplement are valid only for the winter season 2016/17. Completeness cannot be guaranteed, liability will not be assumed. The timetable is based on information provided by the tour operators and/or airlines respectively airports, which reserve the right to make amendments without previous notice.

Note: Most of the listed holiday flights are not fully chartered out to tour operators. Tickets can therefore also be purchased directly at the airlines.
